No problem. Use any of my photos you like.

I'm about to pack your box. I'll add you a 2N1613. That's where it all started.

Look up Pauli Rautakorpi. He photographed several of my chips/wafers for me and has a huge online photo library.

I've attached the photos I made of the first commercial IC (three input NOR gate) from the Apollo Block 1 computer.

Hello, I just ordered a silicon wafer from you. I am using it as part of an online hardware course I am building and would love to include your three microscope images from the listing on one of my power-point slides. I don't have a microscope and the images are great and will be very useful for my students. I will acknowledge you as the source of the images. Thanks in advance.
